

CONCLUSIONS

- Insulin and thyroid hormone deficiencies may be encountered in patients with GSD.
- These endocrine disturbances may contribute to growth retardation in this population.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Larger country-wide study to determine the clinical and laboratory features of GSD in Egypt.
- Attention should be paid to the associated endocrine deficiencies in GSD patients particularly thyroid hormones and insulin.