

CONTENTS

|                                                                          | Page NO. |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------|
| Introduction and aim of the work                                  | 1        |
| CHAPTER I Anatomy                                                 | 4        |
| CHAPTER II Histology                                              | 9        |
| CHAPTER III Pathology                                             | 10       |
| Epidemiology                                                             | 10       |
| Age and Sex Incidence                                                    | 11       |
| Etiology                                                                 | 12       |
| Macroscopic Appearance                                                   | 16       |
| Microscopic Appearance                                                   | 17       |
| Spread                                                                   | 18       |
| Implantation                                                             | 23       |
| Pelvic Recurrence                                                        | 24       |
| Complications                                                            | 25       |
| CHAPTER IV Basic CT Examination of The Pelvis                     | 27       |
| CHAPTER V CT Findings                                             | 29       |
| CHAPTER VI Pre-operative Staging of primary colo-rectal carcinoma | 36       |
| Material and Methods                                              | 41       |
| CHAPTER VII Case Presentation                                     | 43       |
| CHAPTER VIII Results                                              | 53       |
| CHAPTER IX Discussion                                             | 56       |
| CHAPTER X Summary                                                 | 63       |
| CHAPTER XI References                                             | 64       |
| CHAPTER XII Arabic Summary                                        | 81       |