

Contents

I. Definition of Obesity:	3
II. Diagnosis of Obesity:	6
1- Measurements of body weight correlated to height, sex and frame size.
2- The weight/height ² index.
3- Measurement of skin fold thickness.
4- Fat Soluble gas Method.
5- Total body water content.
6- Total Body potassium content.
7- Total body density method.
 III. Classification of Obesity.	 10
1- According to Caloric intake and energy Expenditure.
2- According to Clinical grounds.
3- Anatomical classification.
 IV. Aetiology of Obesity	 12
V. Differential diagnosis	17
VI. Patho-Physiology	22
VII. Complications of obesity	25
A- Metabolic Abnormalities	29
B- Health Consequences of Obesity	32
C- Anaesthetic hazards of obesity	39
 VIII. Treatment of Obesity:
1- Variates of the Treatment	42
2- Historical aspects of the surgical treatment	43
3- Indications for the surgical procedure	45
4- Selection of Cases for operations	46
5- Contraindications for the surgical Tech- nique	46
6. Choice of the surgical procedure	47
7- Pre-operative Measurements	50
A- pre-operative evaluation	50
B- pre-operative preparation	54